

Odem Technologies Ltd. a Member of the BOS group expanded its long term supply agreement with the Israel Aircraft Industry (IAI) by approximately $2M.

Rishon Lezion, Israel -- (BUSINESS WIRE) – December 13, 2005 – Odem Electronic Technologies 1992 Ltd. (“Odem”), a wholly owned subsidiary of B.O.S. Better Online Solutions Ltd. ("BOS") (NASDAQ: BOSC; TASE: BOSC) announced today that it has expanded its long term agreement to supply a variety of electronics and electromechanical components to the Israel Aircraft Industry's production plant, by an estimated sum of approximately $2M. The expanded agreement for the supply of electromechanical parts to business jets over the next five years, is now estimated at approximately $5M.

Odem's general manager Mr. Avidan Zelicovsky stated that this expanded agreement is indicative of the ongoing trend Odem is experiencing with key clients expanding and increasing their business cooperation with Odem.

With respect to Odem's activities, Mr. Zelicovsky continued, “We are investing heavily to expand our activity in the US market as well as developing Odem's capability in the Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) field. Odem, which in the past completed several RFID projects including the Maccabiah games, is currently involved in several new projects which when matured will present significant opportunities for the company in this new booming technology.”

About BOS
